

e-CRIME PRIVATE MEETING SERIES

ABOUT US

01

EXPERTISE

AKJ has been running events for 20+ years.

02

NICHE INDUSTRY

We run events solely within Cyber Security so we have expertise in this space.

03

HISTORY

AKJ started running events at the request of the British Government after successfully running events for Interpol across the World.

04

RECOGNISED

Over the years we have been invited by governments all across EMEA to run our e-Crime Series events.

05

TARGET GROWTH

Each event represents a targeted opportunity to address the needs of your key target accounts, whose need for your solutions and services is growing.

06

BOOST SALES

Sponsors can tailor messages to the needs of an audience that shares similar concerns and challenges, looking for solutions now.

SPONSOR TESTIMONIALS

Chief Evangelist, Illumio.

"The team seems to consistently pull relevant people together, which is the foundation of a good roundtable. The second part is effective moderation. Getting a group of strangers to start talking does take real intent from the moderators and your team has consistently delivered that. It makes my job much easier. I look forward to the next one."

Senior Director of Marketing, Carbon Black.

"AKJ has been a valuable partner for us for a few years now, enabling us to build relationships and engage with the CISO community in a number of key territories across Europe. The events they hold are a great vehicle for discussing the latest challenges and opportunities in the security sector, and our work with them has delivered way beyond expectations."

VP, Products, Proofpoint

"e-Crime Private Meeting Series Roundtables remain a critical event for security professionals. Year after year, AKJ have managed to stay on top of market trends and deliver on the demand for topical expertise from its attendees and we are delighted to be part of them."

DELEGATE TESTIMONIALS

CISO, Anglo American.

"The event was very engaging, providing an excellent forum to hear the thoughts and musings of leaders throughout cyber security and from multiple verticals. This type of engagement is excellent to support my decision-making process, particularly in terms of road maps. It is also reassuring to hear the same issues being discussed by other organisations.... affirming that we are not alone in the great cyber space!."

CISO, Irwin Mitchell.

"The most enjoyable and informative get together of likeminded security professionals that I have been to in years."

Head of IT Security & Risk, BUPA Global

"As ever, attending an e-Crime Private Meeting Round Table event is a pleasure and I appreciate the invitation. These forums are a great way to meet with peers to share concerns, experiences and challenges relating to both specific cyber areas of interest and also the wider Infosec world. In addition, there is the opportunity to discuss a product with the host in an informal but intimate, non-sales, environment which is especially useful."
